HAS TUX still traveling. Ivory Joe Hunter, like Fats Domino gets an occasional guest star shot on television thanks to the program's stars and producers.

How Auto Dealers, Breweries Ignore Sepia Market On Huge TV Schedule

Roy's Beef: Just Rides, Notes For Buying Cars, Big Head For Beers

By ROB ROY

First, an orchid for NBC-TV, and the other major chains for displaying democracy in programming, shows and spectacles. For this they (the broadcasting companies) receive only our thanks and an add-to for their ratings, not specifically measured in dollars and cents.

But what about the major firms, breweries, automobile manufacturers, soft drink companies cigarette brass cosmetic dispensers and the like? They take our dollars, gladly but give so little in return when it comes to "spreading the dough" for exploitation, and advertising. Negroes annually spend several millions on the products mentioned above. From a percentage of these millions go budgets for television advertising. No part of which reaches Sepia entertainers save for an occasional guest spot where the pay is lowest on the show. And worse yet, to the producers and stars must go credit for this "handout," not the agencies or sponsors.

One of the best shows on the air is the Nat King Cole program. NBC-TV Tuesday nights. Yet it is unsponsored. Why? The same old story of course. The agencies cannot get the firms to sponsor the show for reasons they openly express. The firms, when pressed bring the story out in the open. Negroes on a show hurts sale of the product, especially in Dixie. True or false this should not influence a situation where the buying power would be balanced evenly or perhaps in favor of the Negro market.

Whenever I read about Elvis Presley's four or five Cadillacs, one gold, it occurs how lucky the guy is actually. Not at being able to afford such expensive luxury exactly, but realizing that he can get his money back for, not one, but all five for one television show. The same might be said of numerous others starring in their own television show, excluding of course, Nat King Cole. And a check of the records will show that many Sepia stars boasts high priced cars, sometimes two or more in their families. And the same is true of the brewery business. Citizens on Southside of Chicago, in New York's Harlem; San Francisco's Fillmore District; Los Angeles' Central avenue and Adams streets annually consume more beer per capita than other sections of the various cities.

As for cigarettes drop backstage at New York's Apollo or Chicago's Regal when a big time show is appearing and see how many of the stars are without smokes. Then rush around to the lobby and notice how many patrons leaving light up when reaching the door.

On the surface this may not appear alarming. One might choose to say why complain about lack of sponsorship if the broadcasting company is willing to foot the bill. That is the understatement of the year. There is big money in sponsored shows but little more than peanuts from sustaining programs. Let us say Ed Sullivan nets $200,000 from his show annually. So what, the sponsors pay close to $100,000 a night for the show, making Sullivan's "take" just a pea in the huge pot. On the other hand a sustaining program (one without sponsor) has no such source of supply. The broadcasting company must foot the entire bill from its cash box. In addition there is the little matter of dropping a sponsored program to make room for the "sustainer," making the half hour or fifteen minutes a complete loss financially save for spot announcement takes.

The case of Nat King Cole is, of course not unique. There have been other Sepia and even interracial shows that felt the sting of the Dixie brow-beat. Among them shows planned and promised that never hit the nation's screens. No absolute "confession" has been given as to the failure of the Sammy Davis, jr. show to materialize. One national magazine made an attempt to "quote" Sammy but certainly there were many facts missing from the story.

However, a few close to the industry have confided that Sammy's unwillingness to agree on two points stymied the program before its birth. First Sammy is alleged to have objected to for-

A SET-UP ON THE HOUSE. Duke Ellington appeared in a one shot deal, "A Drum Is A Woman" because CBS-TV decided sponsor or not they wanted the "spectacular."

LENA HORNE successfully recommended West Coast disc jockey Joe Adams for a role in her soon to be produced Broadway play "Jamaica." ADAMS IS DUE TO arrive in New York Aug. 15 to begin rehearsal for his Broadway debut. — THE POPULAR D. J. WAS seen as the fight champion in the film version of "Carmen Jones" that starred Dorothy Dandridge and Harry Belafonte. MISS HORNE WILL, of course, have top role in "Jamaica," written especially for her. — IMPORTANT NEWS along Broadway - Harlem stem is information that at least two members of original cast of "Giant Step" will occupy same roles in the play version to be filmed by Burt Lancaster and associates. — STEP-IN-FETCHIT, the old movie comedian is readying a show that will feature him in his original "lazy" style for tour of Canada starting in August. — ENGAGEMENTS INCLUDE performances at "Windsor Celebration" an annual spectacular in that Canadian City.

of Lurlean Hunter and Australian Jazz Quintet.

THE NBC-TV show, "Big Moments," will feature Jesse Owens July 28 with the famous athlete telling of his experiences in the Olympics held in Germany back in 1936. — JESSE NATURALLY WILL be asked about the snubbing he received from Hitler. — THE FOUR STEP BROTHERS are in Nation's Capital appearing with JERRY LEWIS. — INCIDENTALLY YOU'LL be seeing quite a bit of his team on TV due to a special arrangement with NBC-TV for so many shows annually. — AND SPEAKING OF Four Step Brothers it may not be wrong to say act's Al Williams and Dorothy Donegan form an item, romantically. — MORE ABOUT this later. — DONEGAN, INCIDENTALLY currently appearing at Chicago Sutherland hotel-lounge, goes to New York's Embers and Atlantic City and back to Chicago in November for a stint at loop's London House.

NAT KING COLE show was shelved temporarily this week to allow NBC-TV timespot for the special discussion on Civil Rights. — THE DISCUSSION by various senators was a corker. — THE CURRENT Larry Steele "Smart Affairs" show at Dunes hotel in Las Vegas has "Rochester" of Jack Benny show fame as top star. — MAURICE ROCCO on piano; Butter Beans and Susie, comics and others make the floor show a corker. — SAMMY DAVIS, JR., is next major attraction at Chez Paree. — SAMMY WAS to have appeared on Nat King Cole video show that was shelved Tuesday night. — NATION'S TELEVISION viewers saw the only fighter ever to hold three titles at same time last Friday on the Red Barber show. — THAT HAD TO BE Henry Armstrong, who else? THE BLUES at its best was on tap at Roberts cafe past week when Big Joe Turner appeared. — JOE WAS FOLLOWED by combination

SPEAKING OF television programs have you witnessed a top per for the Cole-Pearl Bailey screening a week ago? WE HAVEN'T — in a long, long time. — MARTHA DAVIS and spouse were solid kicksters on the "Ray Rayner show," CBS-TV Saturday. — MARTHA PLAYS a lot of piano and sing sensationally too. — ATTENTION HARLEMITES: If you are wondering how Ohioans are receiving your Leonard Parker, John Fleming, Evelyn Green, Christine Buster, Shirley Carter, and others appearing at Antioch College festival ANSWER IS with raves. — LAVERNE BAKER and Fats Domino will team for short one-nighter tour, that figures to be a wower. THE REGAL THEATER in Chicago is being offered an interracial "backstage" for one week that would include Four Step Brothers and the ofay dancing dolls known as "Chez Paree Darlings." KEN BLEWITT, house manager very happy over prospects.

So, Lavern Baker Erases Usual Artists' Tag: All Play, No Save

NEW YORK — When she was a little girl going to Sunday School, singer Lavern Baker never forgot one of the Ten Commandments that spoke of "honoring thy father and thy mother." Now a success in show business, she just bought her mother a home in Chicago.

When Al Green, manager of the Tweedle-Dee girl presented the keys to a $22,000 home on the Southside of the Windy City to Mrs. Ana Evans, she was so dumfounded that she fainted. Upon being revived she learned of another surprise in store for her: her daughter had also given her a $200 weekly allowance as the result of a trust fund that will continue until she passes on.

Talking to a reporter backstage at the Paramount theatre where she was heading the Allan Freed Rock and Roll show, Miss Baker said that what she did for her mother was a deed that she thinks any successful son or daughter should do without urging. What she has accomplished in the world, she stated, is due to the teachings of her mother who worked as a domestic until three years ago. "My mother sacrificed for me and many were the days that she would go without buying herself a much-needed dress in order that I could get shoes, tea-sunkum I could get shoes, take music lessons and have spending money. That I never forgot and I hope my buying her a home and giving her a lifetime allowance in some small manner compensates for what she has done for me," she said.

ZIG and ZAG with ZIGGY JOHNSON

DETROIT — Several years ago while vacationing at Jean Jones farm, I heard a commentator come over the airwaves saying "History is being made at Forest Hills and in the State of Michigan."

"At Forest Hills a Negro girl, Althea Gibson, is about to become the first of her race to accomplish the fete, and here in Michigan Governor Williams appointee to the judgeship of Recorder's court has won the nomination by a landslide, he is Charles W. Jones."

Since that day I have sort of associated Althea with the "judge" and just the other day Miss Gibson arrived in New York amid triumph and fanfare and the same day Charles Jones was in an accident and two days later he died. It seemed to me they were always in the news together and reading of them always made me happy for I admired the wonderful judge and adored the talented tennis star, Althea, but somehow or other the news broke off and I am now with a tennis great but without a great judge.

Lois Warren wondering why I hollered while watching Nat King Cole dance. What she didn't know was that Nat did a break on his left foot, and, brother, some of the best dancers have that yet to do. Eh, Pretty Eddie?

Some people can hit the digits and maintain their same composure, while others get amnesia conveniently. John White saying to your writer, "Come right in, Miss McKinney is waiting for the check."

Singer Lavern Baker closed the Paramount theatre in New York and moved to Wildwood New Jersey's Club Bolero. Add the name of the Los Mujeres to the list of ladies who enjoy "racking 'em back."

T-Bone Walker hit town finished his rehearsal at the Flame Bar and headed straight to the golf course. Last time he was here, the boys almost made him pawn his guitar. Thank you, Freddie Gordon.

Local performers shocked at the sudden death of dancer Audrey De Young. Sammy Davis, jr. has a young man named John who used to play a saxophone. Ask him about that yarn.

NEW YORK — Blues shouter Jimmy Witherspoon created a mild tidal-wave of his own at Sea Gull Beach in Prince Frederick, Maryland, last week when he had 4500 beach-bathers swinging and swaying in the sand and in the water.

hand when the handsome Mr. Witherspoon started giving out with his assortment of blues and ballads. His "Nobody's Business What We Do" stirred up the crowd and the femmes started swooning. Jimmy Witherspoon, who has just signed a new recording contract with RCA Victor Records, opened at the famous Waluhaj Hotel in Atlanta on July 17.

Tallahassee Coeds Hear Don Jacoby

TALLAHASSEE—The noted cornetist Don Jacoby conducted a two day clinic on brasswind instruments and served as guest artist with the summer session band in concert at Florida A&M university.

Cornetist Don Jacoby played his first concert at the early age of six. His spectacular talent developed so quickly, he made his first public appearance when he was only nine. This was with the Spring Garden Bank of York, Pa., then a topflight recording concert band.

Eartha Kitt Schedule Is 'Very Heavy'

NEW YORK — (ANP) — Two weeks of summer straw hat theater for Eartha Kitt then a night club tour is that busy star's program for the immediate future. Miss Kitt will be presented at the Westport, Conn., playhouse in "Mrs. Patterson," the whimsical show in which she starred in Broadway with another week at the Fayetteville, N. Y., playhouse of the same show.

After that, she embarks on a night club tour of Canada. Miss Kitt was one of the featured performers at the Newport Festival of Jazz and for the first time, a dance group which she heads, was included in the two-day program.

Destine Dancers Will Tour Japan

NEW YORK — Jean-Leon Destine currently appearing at Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival with his famed calypso group leaves this week to begin a two-month tour of Japan. First date will be in Tokyo, July 26.

He returns in early September to begin his first coast-to-coast tour since his return from Europe under the aegis of Charles E. Green of Consolidated Concerts Corporation. The 37-week tour will cover most of the leading cities of the United States and Canada.

The repertory requested for Japan includes, not only the Haitian dancesboth voodoo and carnival—for which Destine is known here and abroad, but also the newer repertory of dance and song from all the other islands of the Caribbean, which he has been introducing to American audiences in recent weeks in his new "Carnival." But, because of the special interest among the Japanese in American jazz and blues, there will also be special jazz and blues numbers and a blues singer, Miriam Burton, to augment the regular company.

Among the featured dancers and musicians accompanying Destine (in addition to Miss Burton, who has had success concertizing in Paris and London) are Marguerite Adrien, France Michel, Arthur Wright, Mario Timmenz, and the drummers, Edner Calvin and Max Morisset. The latter, recently imported from Haiti, is a member of the national Troupe Folklorique, originally organized by Destine his native Haiti.

SOCIETY Merry Go-Round

by MARJORIE I. ULEN

Summer living... with its overtones of vacations... relaxation... picnics... and just plain escaping the mercurial rays of "Old Sol"... has reached its zenith. It's the time when milady relinquishes the dream of the perfect summer wardrobe and fills her mind with thoughts of tweed, furs, wools, satins and velvets to be included in those oft desired Fall and Winter wardrobes of wishful thinking. Those endowed with the ability to always be prepared... are doing Christmas shopping in July. It all must be a sign of our fast-paced times — when motels no longer save the moment at hand... and are even in quest of the portents of the future. Don't ask me why... psychologists are pondering the same dilemma.

These, too, are the days that try the souls of social scribes... when lots of interesting, intimate social events are going on... which many hostesses are prone to discount... which means digging for news, unless something outstanding is going on. Do make us happy by calling and sending in the news of "who's doing what, where, when and why!"

CELEBRITY SOCIAL CLUB

One of the gayest and most colorful of the many events given by the Celebrity Social club was the tea and fashion show held recently at the home of vice prexy, Mrs. Carrie E. Smith, of 2172 St. Gall.

The lawn was beautifully decorated with inviting lawn chairs and a picturesque umbrella table. Just before the fashion show began, a short musical program was given by Miss Mattie P. Bland and Mrs. Hattie Harrison — along with the history of the club by Mrs. Thelma James.

Modeling for the various clubs and business firms were Mrs. Rosa Bobo, Ebony Social club; Clara Lyon and Bertha Lofton of the Willing Workers club; Ruth Nevils for Housewives League Unit 12; Geraldine Wiley for Celebrities; Rochelle Woody for Williams Boria, Grocery and Shirley Ann Hicks for Bobbie Beauty School. Miss Evelyn Bishop was the narrator, Mrs. Eleanor J. Moore, pianist and Mrs. Ruth Boyd and Mrs. Dorothy Hall, acting hostesses.

LAWN PARTY FETES

WILMINGTON GUEST

Among the many affairs honoring Mrs. Leonard Anderson of Wilmington, Del., the mother of J. O. Patterson, Jr.'s lovely bride, prior to the Memphis reception held last Monday, honoring the young couple who were united in brilliant nuptials at Wilmington, Del., in June, was the colorful lawn party given by Mrs. Vivian White Saturday night, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones, 1139 S. Parkway East. The grounds of the lovely home, with its terraced patio and beautifully landscaped yard, was a scene of gay camaraderie as guests enjoyed games, succulent barbecued chicken dinners and the convivial fun of chatting with out-of-town visitors, and members of the local smart set.

The very youthful, chic and attractive honoree is most charming and affable, and was attired in a lovely sheath frock of colorful white, red and black horizontal stripes. Mrs. White received her guests in a smart black slim pants ensemble, which featured Chinese styling, topped with a lovely yellow jeweled cardigan. Guests included the hostess' sister, Mrs. Jones, relatives of the young couple — including Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lewis, Jr. — Mr. and Mrs. Philip Booth, Miss Jewel Gentry, Atty. and Mrs. A. A. Lattling, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Bond of Madison, Ark., Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Burke of Forrest City, Ark., Dr. and Mrs. Walter W. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Branch of Jackson, Miss., and Mrs. Branch's sister, Mrs. Marion Hayes Johnson of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.; Mrs. Esther Luster Woods, former Memphis, of Omaha, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Howell, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Sawyer, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Maceo Walker, and "you and me."

Fall Forecast: Short Skirt Still Stylish

PARIS — If you listen to Hubert Marquis de Givenchy you'll still wear your skirts short next fall.

This young and already famous Paris designer, who dresses Audrey Hepburn and Jean Seberg, has shown ready-to-wear styles for fall which do not toe the general line of slightly dropped hemlines.

His collection, part of which also will be exported to the United States, features slim, loosely fitted suits and dresses with skirt-hems about 15 inches off the floor.

You can start investing in beige — from the pale sand color to nut-brown — as a sure bet for fall and winter elegance. Givenchy uses camelhair, beige cashmere jersey and moire in a cafe-au-lait color for fall clothes in his new "plumb line."

Broad-shouldered, collarless suit-jackets for autumn are longer in order to cover the hip bones. Straight jersey dresses are loosely belted at the waist and coats have raglan or kimono sleeves. Black cocktail and evening dresses are kept in simple, pure lines stripped of fancy trimmings. They attract attention to the throat strapped décolletages or a high-front and deep plunging back neckline.

A perfect hand in bridge—that is 13 cards of one suit—could happen only once in 40 billion hands, according to mathematical calculations based on chance and average.

Blunder By Biased To Speed Up Integration

Segregationists in Nashville jumped the integration gun and because of their "tactical blunder," Nashville first graders will attend mixed schools in September.

And more important, says Dr. Herman H. Long, director of the Institute of Race Relations at Fisk University, "the segregationists wound up with a sweeping mandate from the state's own Supreme Court upholding the United States Supreme Court."

Dr. Long says the segregationists "hastened desegregation" by forcing the issue. "If it had not been for their insistence on a court test, Nashville would not be integrating its schools in September."

Dr. Long said "Negroes weren't ready to make a move in Nashville. We wanted to proceed orderly, picking the spots where the best chances for success exist."

But when the integration decision was handed down affecting Clinton High school the pro-segregationist Constitutional Government planned an immediate legal test of the U. S. Supreme Court's school desegregation order.

It appealed to the Tennessee State Supreme Court, relying on the state's segregation laws. The court ruled Tennessee's laws unconstitutional.

"If they had been wise, at least from the white segregationists' point of view, they would have let Clinton be and done nothing," Dr. Long said.

will present representative artists from across the nation and activities of the youth and junior departments will be carried on under their particular leadership.

Daily conferences, clinics and workshops will be held in Church music; voice, organ, piano, public school music, opera and music listening sessions.

Among the national officers serving as chairman are Orrin Clayton, Southern Lincoln University Pa.; Mrs. Blanche K. Thomas, second vice president Mt. Vernon N. Y.; Mrs. Lillian Dunn Perry, Miss Josephine C. Innis, Junior Vice President, New Orleans; sell Johnson, treasurer, Philadelphia; Leroy Boyd, recording secretary, New York City; Huei Brooks Gwin, Assistant Secretary, Chaplain, St. Louis, Mo.

This year's Artist Night soloist will be Robert McFerrin, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Association, and on Honor's Night, August 22, the Requiem by G. Verdi, directed by Miss Celeste Cole, Detroit musician, will be sung in memory of the late Mrs. Julia Walden Valentine and other members of the organization who died during the year.

Nab 'Usher' With $500 At Graham Meet

NEW YORK — (INS) — A Los Angeles liquor salesman today was held in $1,500 bail for a hearing Thursday on grand larceny charges after he was arrested while allegedly fleeing with a $500 collection from a Billy Graham meeting.

Louis Silver, 46, was arrested Saturday night under the grandstand at the Yankee Stadium when P.I. John Fitzpatrick said he found him walking out of the ballpark with a collection bag.

Silver's attorney, Otto Pusco, said officials of the Graham organization had asked Silver's help because the crowd was so large.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Theodore Eppinger charged Silver was making the collection for himself. The bag contained a total of $491.95 in cash and $9 in checks.

THE MILKY WAY

With LEODA GAMMON

Earlier this summer Mrs. Holmes served that zesty and delicious cheese soufflé at a Memphis Dairy Council luncheon. Of course she's an expert with these special dishes. But that perfect and spectacular soufflé can be your handiwork if you keep in mind these simple facts.

Use the right size baking dish and be sure oven temperature is right. Eggs should be at room temperature before soufflé is started.

The base of your soufflé (this means all ingredients except egg yolks and whites) can be mixed and cooked beforehand thus saving last minute preparations.

Beater must be clean before beating egg whites or you will have difficulty in getting the whites to stand up. When whites will hold a peak they are ready for mixing. This is done by cutting gently through the mixture with spoon or spatula and lifting part of mixture to a new spot.

Keep turning the bowl round and round while you cut and lift until egg whites are completely blended.

Have your family sitting at the table with warm plates before them when you take the soufflé from the oven.

CHEDDAR CHEESE SOUFFLE
1/2 lb. cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash cayenne
3-4 cup milk
4 eggs

Shred the cheese fine. Start your oven at 375 degrees F. or moderate.

Melt butter in a sauce pan, stir in flour, salt and cayenne smoothly and add the milk. Cook over a moderate heat, stirring constantly until sauce bubbles. Stir in shredded cheese until melted, then remove from heat.

A.M.E. Church In Top Financial Condition

Budget Body Issues Report

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — The AME church is in better financial condition than at any previous time in its history, members of the Budget Committee of the church announced here.

The powerful Budget Committee was originally authorized at the Miami, Fla., General Conference, in 1956, and was directed to "put the AME Church on a sound business basis."

That this has been accomplished was agreed by the Committee following its recent meeting here. Among the Committee's announced accomplishments was that the AME church supported educational institutions have received over the past 12 months 2 percent more money than ever before.

The Committee announced that the $4 annual General Conference assessment for all members of the AME church passed in 1956, would adequately meet the operational needs of the Church at this time. The $4 is for general and confectional purposes.

Dr. R. W. Mance, treasurer of the AME church, announced that the church has over $327,000 in savings accounts.

The Budget Committee is chaired by Bishop S. L. Greene and its other members are the Revs. H. Ralph Jackson, E. M. Johnson, R. E. Lamb, and McCoy Ransom. Ex-officio members are the Rev. Russell Brown, general secretary of the AME church; H. Dudley and Dr. Mance, treasurer.

MARKHAM
By MILDRED SCIPLIN

The fourth of July has come and gone. For most of us in Bel Air, it was a regular old fashioned day without the danger of fire works. The small fry were as much in the fun as the adults. Almost every family worked their barbecue pits full blast. Almost every type of meat was cooked out of doors. For those who ran out or did not feel like cooking, the Markham Manor Civic organization sold barbecue dinners at its annual barbecue.

The Little Leaguers played at the picnic grounds to a large crowd. We were happy to see some of the boys from Bel Air in the games. I did not get their names. Will have them next week.

We were very happy and busy in my home for the day too. Our son Robert, brought his family, Clara and Chappy plus Carol, Joyce and Robbin (three of our grandchildren) all the way from Toledo. Then to make the day complete George (Buddy) our oldest came with his family — Pansy, David and Marlene, Clifford and Edith Burke and Curry and Alene Cannon, dear friends, helped to make this perfect day something to cherish.

You are reminded again to come out on July 28 for the Bel Air Park Civic Association's big day. After the tea, most of the families are going to have open house.

Clementine Irions tells me that the 14 women who volunteered to take the school census were not paid for their work. The money that would have been paid out for this census was applied instead to the library and to the school budget. The library needed only $100 of the $300. The rest is there for use in the schools.

DYER, TENNESSEE

A cheery greeting from the northern end of Gibson county. Yes, we're fanning too, in case you're interested.

Our being on the northern end of the county hasn't lowered the temperature any. In spite of that — school has gotten off to a great start and the children have settled down to the grind of studying. Those who were fortunate enough to have a vacation from home have started the homeward trek. Rebecca Phillips and Sammie Wynn, who spent their vacation in Gary, Ind., returned Thursday accompanied by Ermagene Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nolan, of Gary.

Speaking of vacations many of our hometowners have visited home for week ends or maybe long periods of time. Among the weekenders was Miss Tyree Ivie who now resides in Indianapolis, Ind., accompanied by Webb Johns and father, Haywood Johns, of Indianapolis, spent a recent week end with Mr. and Mrs. Eli Ivie, Wanda and Donald Ray Fisher. Friends were all happy to see "Ty" as she is affectionately known around town.

Mrs. Bell Welch is being made happy this season for she is being visited by most of her grandchildren, the children of Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Welch, of Newbern. Aside from the ones who have already visited her Sunday last found Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Welch and family and brothers Raymon and William Ray, all of Peoria, Ill. Of course Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Welch come along with the children each time.

Mrs. Alberta Nolan must have been an exceptionally good patient at St. Mary's hospital in Humboldt, for on Sunday last she was visited by some of the workers and attendants of the hospital. We are happy to say that Mrs. Nolan is getting along nicely. Walter Pfiffer wishes to thank all his friends for the kindness shown him while he has been sick. He wants you to know that he is doing fine and would appreciate seeing you at any time. Lynn McGee remains on the sick list but is reported as being better.

Miss Lydia Bell-Woods, of Chicago, spent a few hours with her grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Ewell. Mrs. Ewell is being made happy this summer also, for daughters are visiting her with the grandchildren, and that always makes a grandmother's heart happy.

Mrs. Russell Lee Thomas, of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Bernell Harding of Cleveland, Ohio, are the daughters. Mrs. Shirley Ray, of Trenton, is a frequent visitor also. Mrs. Ray has the great-grand baby of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O'Daniel have moved into a "Home of Their Own" on Washington dr. Congratulations to them.

Rev. Wm. Fowlkes preached a wonderful message for the youth the second Sunday. Rev. Fowlkes was dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nolan and father, Tom Nolan. Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hutson and Rev. J. C. Hullum were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Overall. Mrs. Beatrice Ivie, Mrs. Geraldine Williams, Mrs. La Pearl Burns, Mrs. Albertia Jamison, Hollis Wynn, Eddie Ball and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Wilkins along with Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hutson, pastor of the CME church worshipped with the CP church in Rutherford Wednesday night. Rev. Hutson gave a wonderful missionary sermon. The services were the first in a series for the Missionary Society for the C. P. church sponsored by Mrs. Irene Alexander, of Rutherford.

C. V. Jenkins reports that his baseball team is still a winning team and asks for your support. Fishing is still the most popular sport around town according to Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fisher.

The Missionary Society of Fairview Baptist church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Lee Gentry on Monday night. Stewardess Board No. 2 with Mrs. Erma Wynn as the very efficient president of the CME church, met with Mrs. Virginia O'Daniel on Thursday last. A delicious course was served.

Charles Booker and son of Cordele, Ga., are visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. Florence Booker and Mrs. Elizabeth Holland. Mr. Booker is visiting his brothers, Messrs. B. F. and Andrew Booker and families of Rutherford. Those persons attending the Dyersburg District Conference in Union City last week were Mrs. Lucy Overall, Mrs. Albertia Jamison, Miss Jerry Wynn, Willie Lewis Wynn and John Etta Jamison, Mrs. Farrah Ivie, Joann Booker and Murrel Dean Belmont as delegates. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ball, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wynn, Lois and Philip, J. D. Overall and Johnnie Jamison visited the Youth Day services.

The American Legion Post No. 200 has taken a forward step toward offering clean and wholesome recreation for the young people of this vicinity. One night a week has been designated as "teen-age night" at the Legion Club on Central st., in Trenton. The young people are well chaperoned and parents are invited to let their "teenagers" share the fun.

Miss Ann Penn, of Chicago, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Meadie Penn was guest of Mrs. Lucy Overall Sunday, along with Mrs. Penn and Nathaniel Penn.

Musing:

Does financial security make one happy? While paying premiums on life and health policies and feeling rather smug because you feel you will never be a burden on your children, I wonder if it has ever occurred to you that money worries are not the only thing that can make aging parents a responsibility. Are you neglecting to make payments on a very important type of insurance... your protection against old-age loneliness and dependence on the young for pleasure. In the hustle and bustle of trying to earn a living and keeping house for the family, are you losing all contact with your friends. Have you given up all group activities? If so you are not leading a well-balanced life at all. Think about this until next week.

Dear Carlotta:

My neighbors have been so generous to me on a certain occasion until I am quite embarrassed. But let me begin at the beginning. I was an honored guest at a baby shower in a new neighborhood. I received so many beautiful gifts. Many of them were handmade. I was embarrassed because so many of the "donors" I had no more than passed the time of day with.

It was a neighborhood party, and even though I recognized most of the ladies, I did not know many of their names. Can you imagine opening a beautifully wrapped package with a $2 or $3 gift inside and having to have someone identify the giver for you? I appreciated each and every gift, but how can I ever repay these women? Some will never have an occasion to have a shower, and just now I can't do much entertaining because I have a small house and a large young family. Most of these women I don't know well enough to send a birthday remembrance. What can I do? Worried mother.

Dear Mother:
As far as the neighborhood show-

Hibbler Can 'See' Beautiful Women

Al Hibbler is NOT BLIND! At least, not in the usual sense of the word.

In August Ebony, he says, "A blind man can 'see' beautiful women." He claims that his sight lies in the second finger of his right hand. "Cut off that finger," he jokes, "and I'd be blind as a bat."

'White Man Who Can't Go Home'

There's a white man in the U. S. who can't go home!

Lamar Weaver, 29-year-old white lay preacher explains in August Ebony why he cannot come out of hiding and go to his home in Georgia. He states: "I began to see that the Negro in the South was discriminated against. He does not have a chance in the South. I wanted to help him."

For this, he lost his home, wife and baby.

Although he is still "in hiding," August Ebony reveals the whole story of "The White Man Who Can't Go Home."

Hiram Winborn, Evell Campbell, Perry Campbell and Banks McCleod.

Miss Ora Mae Coffey and Miss Barbara Jo Coffey were the week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Coffey, of 229 S. 10th st. Miss Coffey has been studying for the past two years in Europe, and little Barbara has been living in Detroit for the past four years with her uncle. Ora Mae and Barbara left last Friday for Detroit, Mich. and Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Jones, of 118 S. 12th st. had as their guest last week Mrs. Jones' brother, Tommy Edward Lofton, of Chicago. Mrs. Jones is an instructor at Wonder High school.

Mrs. Evelyn Oliver, of 230 S. 17th st., instructor at Wonder High school, is vacationing in Los Angeles, Calif. with her sister and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Perry. Mrs. Oliver says she expects to have a wonderful time in Los Angeles.

The commanding officer, Colonel Otmar F. Kotick, addressed the group and thanked them for their evident interest and enthusiastic support of the Depot's safety program. He recalled the record set by Depot employees when they worked 1,927,966 manhours without a disabling injury from April 24, 1936 to Jan. 17, 1957, and urged them to strive to surpass this record. Employees to date have worked more than 800,000 manhours without a last-time accident, according to the Safety Director W. W. Moore.

Get The House Set For That Vacation Trip

Getting your house ready before an auto vacation can be as important as getting your family ready.

If you close your home up carelessly and just walk off, some of your possessions may "walk off" too in your absence. An accumulation of newspapers or full milk bottles on the doorstep can tip off the wrong kind of "visitors" while you are away. Drawn blinds may also indicate that here is a house which can be ramracked at leisure.

DON'T HIDE KEY

Discontinue milk and newspaper delivery, therefore when you drive away on vacation. Let your home look lived in. And ask a neighbor or friend to pick up your mail every other day or so. It can indicate "nobody home."

Don't hide a door key on the premises. The classic places for it under the door mat, on a lamp fixture near the entry, in the mailbox — are just as well known to thieves as to members of the family.

Here are three things to put in storage — your jewelry, silver and fur coat. A safe deposit at the bank is the right place for the first two. Your fur coat will be better off at the cleaner's or your furrier's.

SHUT OFF GAS

And here are three things to take with you — sun glasses, caffeine type tablets and insurance company identification card. Sun glasses can be helpful in driving into the sun. The caffeine type tablets help restore alertness when you become dozy on the road. Information on your insurance company is essential in case of an accident.

Finally, on departure day be sure all windows and doors are securely locked. Turn off lights, disconnect extension cords and shut off gas jets. Now you've insured your peace of mind on your holiday.
